

Friends of Western Sky Land Trust

Help conserve open and natural landscapes that have important natural, agricultural, scenic, recreational and heritage values

Western Sky Land Trust

Conserving Our Sense of Place

Imagine life in Alberta without its spectacular landscapes: rushing rivers flowing from snow-capped mountains through rolling foothills onto our vast prairies. In 2004, a group of Calgary and region landowners, concerned that Alberta's important watersheds could be lost worked with conservation organizations, private citizens, government, and corporate partners to form Western Sky Land Trust.

A Unique Conservation Model

At Western Sky we work with landowners to tailor a conservation plan to meet their needs; championing exemplary open space management and conservation practices, and nurturing assets from an ecological perspective, including reclamation of habitat and wildlife corridors. We also work with hamlets, villages, towns and cities to conserve open space. To-date, Western Sky has conserved over 16,000 acres of land along critical watersheds in the Rocky View, Foothills, Wheatland, Big Horn and the Calgary region. By 2018 Western Sky will have conserved an additional 3,000 acres. Our long term goal is to have a significant impact within southern Alberta.
